

SCALA

Suffolk County Art Leaders Association

Invitational Show

Open to all SCALA Art Teachers and their students, K-12.

We invite you, our member art teachers, to select one or two pieces of student artwork to exhibit alongside one piece of your own artwork, possibly highlighting a creative path and/or link between your work and your students' (or possibly not!).

Benefits of exhibiting your work and your students' in the SCALA Invitational Show:

- This is an excellent opportunity to make parents and community members more aware of the excellent work that's always being created.
- It provides further evidence that a meaningful and engaging art education program is being delivered in your district.
- It highlights the link between student achievement and the inspiration/instruction art teachers model.

This year's show will be LIVE at:

Islip Arts Council Satellite Gallery

Westfield Mall
1701 Sunrise Hwy., Bayshore, NY
(next to Dick's Sporting Goods)

Drop-off 10/20; Pick-up 11/10;
Reception: October 30th

This year, we'd also like to highlight the creative process.

An artist's process demonstrates important aspects of what art educators do and teach, such as research, reference/inspiration, practice, trial and error, experimentation, persistence, revision, refinement, and so much more. Please consider emailing photos of your own and your students' artistic process to possibly be included in the exhibition. These photos can represent the process of creating ANY work(s) of art, and is not limited to the pieces entered into the show. If students are in photos, please get permission (or just focus on the physical documentation of the creative process, if you're unsure).
